MISSISSIPPI DAM BREAK PERILS MANY

WATER NEAR RECORD MARK

CHICAGO, March 21.—(UPI)—Under pressure of the constant pounding of the highest Mississippi waters in 26 years the Indian Grove levee, six miles north of Quincy, Ill., crumbled today, flooding 19,000 acres of the richest farm land in the state.

The break, the first of a serious nature, since the melting snow, ice jams and heavy rains had swollen tributary streams and creeks and caused a steady rise in the Mississippi, forced more than 1000 persons to flee their homes and seek security on higher ground.

City Under Water

Hamburg, Ill., was under water and residents moved their household furnishings to points above the rising water.

The rush of water from tributary streams into the Mississippi was too great for the levee barricade to withstand. Evacuation of the flooded territory was begun before the break came. Sand bag patrols had been established along the danger points, building up supports in an effort to hold the levee intact.

Flood waters from the Des Moines, Cedar and Iowa rivers, together with a rise within its own banks, had sent the Mississippi to day to a stage of 20.3 feet at Quincy, barely under the record mark of 1903. Government engineers predicted a still higher level and that approximately 200,000 acres of bottomlands would be under water when the crest was reached.

Crops Damaged

Rice, wheat and corn crops north of Quincy were damaged severely. Railroad officials said that all trains were running behind schedule and that the Bureau

Building Thief Adding Modern Home Comforts

The Richmond Building Bazaar recently finished his home with articles fitted from contractors here; planted his garden (with stolen seeds); painted his tulips (with stolen bulbs); fenced his lot (with a stolen fence); mowed his lawn (with a stolen lawnmower) and he took his bath in a grand new bathtub (also stolen).

Believing all completed, he settled down in his new home, Monday friend wife reminded her husband that if he wanted his clothes washed he had to provide her with a water heater.

With a sigh of disgust, or what have you, the Building Bazaar arose from his cozy hide-out (also stolen) laid aside his newspaper, (also stolen) and journeyed out into the night.

Yesterday the Richmond Plumbing company reported to the police that a hot water boiler and connecting pipes were stolen Tuesday night from an unfinished home at Esmond and McBryde avenue.

CHAMBER TO SEEK NEW MEMBERS

An intensive campaign to bring the Richmond chamber of commerce into the limelight and gain still wider public support for it is to be held during the first week of April, according to a decision reached yesterday at a meeting of the membership committee of the chamber headed by Ralph H. Bergen.

This movement will be launched to bring the attention of business what the chamber of commerce has accomplished during the last three years and to show what has in view for the period just ahead, it was said by P. M. Bradford, president of the chamber who attended yesterday's session and helped to inaugurate the campaign.

22 DIE IN MINE BLAST

A new combustible gas was discovered and developed by engineers of the Shell Oil company.

During the demonstrations to-day a quantity of the gas was placed in a combustion chamber and several charges of electricity were fired in the chamber without the slightest effect upon the combustible gases.

The gas, which is easily obtained from virtually any manufacturing establishment where oil or coal is used for power generation, will nullify the explosive force of any electric charge, it is claimed.

The inert gas is expected to be

SHOTS MUST NOT HIT BORDER

NACO, Ariz., Mar. 21.—(UPI)—As federal defenders of Naco, Sonora, tonight awaited an attack by a strong rebel force expected hourly, American soldiers prepared to take a hand in the battle if shots are fired over the international boundary line.

NO WAR CLOUDS

The pacifists assured us, when the fifteen cruiser bill was up in the senate, that its passage meant danger of war with Great Britain. Well, the bill has passed and been signed by the President but as yet there is no lowering of war clouds. On the other hand, there are many indications that Great Britain, supposedly is very jealous of our desire to build fifteen new cruisers, is willing to sit in at another disarmament conference. Some indications that Great Britain is so minded is furnished by the recent statement of Sir Esme Howard, British ambassador to the United States to the effect that Great Britain might be favorable to an early conference for an agreement on naval armaments. It is true that Sir Esme declares he was speaking for himself only and not for the British cabinet, but it is also true that the British newspapers hailed the ambassador's statement with a great deal of approval.

"There would seem to be every evidence to believe," said Sir Esme, "now that the fifteen cruiser bill has become a law, that a further effort will be made before long to reach an agreement between the principal naval powers of the world for the limitation of armaments." He declared further that all members of the League of Nations should make efforts toward naval disarmament and that the United States was favorable to a disarmament program also. "It would seem therefore," the diplomat continued, "that everything points toward an early resumption of negotiations and with a far better understanding of the needs of the various parties than existed at Geneva in 1927, there should be a very good prospect of their being brought to a satisfactory conclusion."

All of which is good so far it goes and indicates that this British diplomat at least, does not believe that the patriotic action of the senate in passing the fifteen cruiser bill tends toward war between the two great English speaking countries.

As a matter of fact there is no danger that the fifteen new cruisers will make war likely between the United States and Great Britain. Even with the new ships the United States will still be inferior to Great Britain in cruiser tonnage although the cruisers planned will go a long way toward giving us parity. Now Great Britain has already agreed to the theory that we are entitled to equal naval strength with her. Therefore when another conference is held as there likely will be the fifteen cruisers will still be necessary for the American navy if it is to be maintained on a par with the British navy. There is no evidence which would lead us to believe that Great Britain will destroy any cruisers already built. Uncle Sam therefore will have to build up for parity, not cut down and the fifteen cruisers will be necessary even in the face of a new disarmament program.

The pacifists made a lot of noise for the time being but they convinced nobody with their creation of a war bogey. We are much more apt to get into trouble if unable to defend ourselves.

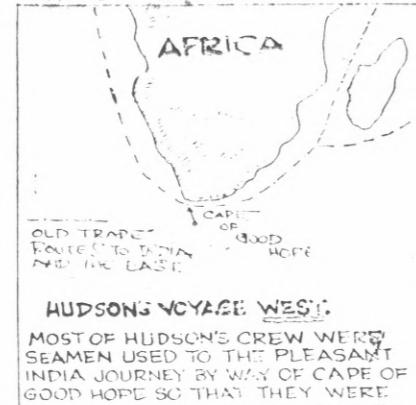

There was a great deal of protest from the liberal element when a woman in Michigan was sent to prison for life under the habitual criminal law for bootlegging. Now a man has been sent up for life for stealing thirty bags of beans. The Boston city council ought to pass a resolution about this.

Mrs. Catt talks about the "fallacy of the defense theory." We suggest she tell that to the marines.

The city which is now troubling about parking space will be worrying about hangar space ten years hence.

In a recent misunderstanding at the National Capitol, Congressman Blanton of Texas was hit by a copy of the Congressional Record thrown by Congressman Elliott of Indiana, but was uninjured. Those Texans surely are a hardy race.

The new Fox picture "The Ghost Talks" is the most natural-sounding ghost picture ever made. It is the story of a woman who has been dead for 10 years and who returns to life to speak to her son. The picture is directed by George W. Hill and stars Charles Eaton and Helen Twelvetrees. It is a real ghost picture, with voices that sound like real voices.

A startling development in home lighting— 7502

D. G. and E. customers have adopted it

No one can ever forget, after they've tried them, the smooth light from these new Duplex lighting units. It's the diffusion and correct control of light that makes the difference. Raw light is broken up. Mellow'd. Spread throughout the whole room. An opal glass reflector under the lamp shade does this. The pleasant light gives new life to furniture. Clear color to draperies. In this light, friends love to linger for all can clearly tell "spades" from "clubs". There are no glaring bright spots in the room. Or murky dark spots to cause squinting and eye-strain.

Lighting engineers designed these lamps. Artists beautified them.

The lamps are made in floor, table and ceiling units. There are many styles and a selection of silk and parchment shades. Phone or call at our office and see these modern Duplex lamps. Let us send to your home a lamp on approval.

WAR CRY WILL HONOR ARMY FOUNDERS

DOHENY LEFT $10,000,000 ESTATE

The great million copy issue of the Founder's Centennial birthday number of the War Cry, the official organ of the Salvation Army, is off the presses and will be distributed throughout the western territory starting April 1. It is one of the most pretentious publications ever put out on the life work of William Booth, the Salvation Army's first general. The special issue is the published climax of the Centenary Call campaign conducted by the Army throughout the world this year in honor of the 100th anniversary of the founder's birth celebrated on April 19. Special emphasis has been placed on evangelistic services throughout the year and every corps and outfit of the Army in the 11 Pacific coast states of the west for the estate, said he probably could produce relatives worth a wealth of $40,000,000 or more to augment the religious revival.

In the special edition are framed pictures suitable for framing of William Booth, Catherine Booth, the Army mother, and Evangeline Booth, commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army in America.

Among the special articles is a biographical sketch of the career of the founder, the beginning and expansion of the army under his direction; an article by Commander Evangeline Booth on her father and mother; an article by Bramwell Booth, the second general on the first general and his chief; contributions from many journalists and others on the founder; an article on the army's third general, newly elected by the high council at London; General Edward J. Higgins; the scope and work of the Salvation Army in the United States and in the world; and a special article on Commander Evangeline Booth entitled "A Quarter of a Century Under Two Flags."

One hundred and seventy five thousand copies of the special edition have been ordered for distribution in the western territory.

REALTOR HEAD WILL VISIT RICHMOND

Harry H. Culver, of Culver City president of the National association of Real Estate boards will be honor guest at a session to be held in the Hotel Garza here April 1.

The dinner and reception will be given in his honor by the Richmond Real Estate Board under the direction of William Metz president of the group.

In honor of Culver's visit, the Richmond city council will postpone its meeting on the night of April 1 and will attend the dinner at the hotel.

Long Tour

The visit is part of a year-long speaking tour undertaken to bring into the closest possible cooperation local and national action in the present notable movement within the business of real estate for mastery of the economic principles governing real estate use and establishment of sound standards of real estate practice. Direct contact between the local board and the National association is expected to aid in bringing together the viewpoints of various states and communities for unified advance in legislation of vital importance to real estate.

At Keokuk, Iowa, the Mississippi reached a stage of 18.5 feet. The Mississippi joins with the Des Moines river at that point and already the lowlands over a wide area are under water.

The Mississippi was reported rising between Cairo, Ill., and a part of the nation's wealth, new Madrid, Mo., to the highest level since the disastrous spring overflow of 1927.

Concern Felt

Reports of additional rains in the upper Mississippi valley caused some concern. The peak of its emphasis the need for combatting the flood at Memphis, Tenn., until early next week.

Reports of further flood damage were received today from Wisconsin, the more equitable transfer, the Rock river crest has passed Beloit, where extensive damage was done.

Railway service on the Nekoosa branch of the Soo line was abandoned. Dynamite was used in several places near Stevens Point to relieve pressure of ice on railroads.

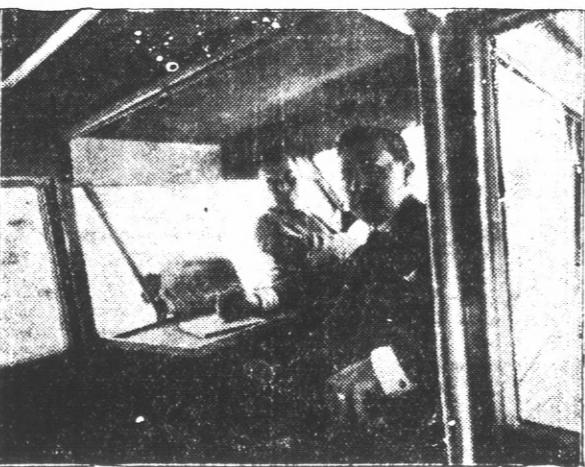

Epideemic Warnings

The health department at Fond du Lac warned residents to boil all water to combat an epidemic of intestinal disease that followed the flood there.

Both branches of the Wisconsin legislature adopted a resolution today to investigate the possibility of flood control on the Rock River by creation of a reservoir at its headwaters. The resolution called for recent dynamiting of dams at Watertown had released great amounts of water, creating a serious condition south of Janesville.

Annual floods are experienced in the Rock River valley with loss of property and life, the resolution set forth, and these conditions contribute to flood problems of the Mississippi valley.

Office In Plane

HARRY H. CULVER, President of the National association of Real Estate Boards, who will visit Richmond on April 1, has a complete office in his cabin plane which he uses on his nation-wide tour.

AIMEE CALLED U.S. MAJOR IN FOR HARDY TRIAL THREAT TO REBELS

Assemblyman Clare Woolwine of Los Angeles left Sacramento at once for the southern city to serve the legal paper which would virtually assure Mrs. McPherson's testimony on accusations against Judge Hardy that arose from his assistance to her during her "kidnapping case."

"MA" KENNEDY TELLS FAITH IN JURIST

SEATTLE, March 21 (U.P.) — When Aimee Semple McPherson disappeared after a dip in the surf near Ocean Park, Cal., more than two years ago, Judge Carlos Hardy believed she was drowned, according to a statement made today by Mrs. Minnie A. "Ma" Kennedy, mother of the evangelist, who returned here from Kelseo, Wash.

She reaffirmed her faith in the jurisdiction and was prepared to make substantially the same deposition for use by Judge Hardy during his impeachment trial April 9 as contained in a affidavit she gave a California senate committee in Portland recently.

Believed Aimee Drowned

"I believe when Aimee disappeared that Judge Hardy believed as I believed—that my daughter was drowned," she said.

"Then when I told him I heard her voice over long distance telephone and really knew she was alive, I believe that he also believed her kidnapping story."

Mrs. Kennedy asserted that she believed there are two sweet, wholesome, loving her God and her little mother who stood by her for 28 years—the other, well, let's not say much about it."

In order to conserve time and make his schedule as efficient as possible, Culver has established his office in the Stinson-Detroiter six passenger cabin monoplane which he has purchased for the year's undertaking.

The plane is equipped with a J-6 Wright whirwind 320 horsepower engine. Its average speed is from 125 to 150 miles an hour. Culver during the six months preceding his taking office as president of the association, made four continental air flights in his own private airplane which likewise carried off equipment.

Lieut. James B. Dickson, who is Culver's pilot on the five tours, was formerly an army aviator. He received his training at Kelly and Langley fields.

Many Escape Injuries In Bus Accident

(Continued from Page 1) prevented a more serious accident. He was directly in the center of the structure when it started to crumble and he jammed on his brakes. Therefore the bus made a straight drop and did not turn over.

Had the driver, Richard Thomas of San Francisco, tried to continue across the bridge his machine would most likely have rolled off the side and landed on top or side.

All the persons in the large machine were shaken up by the crash and the bus was badly wrecked. A woman who witnessed the accident said only two of them tried to get out when it started to fall and sat it was fortunate they had failed. She said a large oil truck had crossed the bridge a few moments before and probably weakened it.

The bridge was built 41 years ago and was condemned by Santa Clara county officials three months ago. Large signs forbidding trucks from trespassing were posted at both ends.
